

M'KINLEY HONORS HIS NATIVE STATE.

He Attends the Ohio Day Ceremonies at the Exposition.

ESCORT DISPENSED WITH.

The Crowd Surrounded the Carriage and Shook Hands with the President.

Nashville, Tenn., June 12.—Quietly and in the presence of not more than 150 or 200 people, President McKinley walked down from the Maxwell House parlor this morning and, with President Thomas, Director-General Lewis, Governor Taylor, Hon. Tully Brown, Hon. Ferdinand W. Peck, president of the Illinois Commission, and Mr. Van Leer Hirkman, stepped into a trap and was conveyed to the exposition grounds.

The conveyance went alone, no others following, as the Cabinet members had already left the hotel. There was a great contrast between this quiet and easy departure and the departure yesterday, when the streets all the way to the grounds were blocked with people who wanted to get a glimpse of the distinguished party.

The order for the parade of the United States troops, which were to accompany the President to-day as an escort, was countermanded, owing to the delay it would have caused. The guests were more than an hour late in reaching the grounds. When the President stepped into the trap and took the front seat, he lifted his hat to the people and a cheer went up.

Not a large crowd was there, as there was no evidence that such a distinguished personage as the President of the United States was about to emerge from the hotel, except a smart looking cart drawn by two pretty horses and handsomely upholstered with velvet cushions standing at the Church street entrance and a policeman who kept the doorway clear.

The President appeared at the foot of the stairway looking rested and full of vigor, and stood for a few minutes waiting for some members of his small party to appear.

After entering the conveyance many persons rushed up to shake the President's hand, and the distinguished visitor was busy greeting them with handshakes when the trap started off to the grounds at a rapid rate. On the way many recognized the President, and their greetings were returned.

Thousands of people attended the very interesting Cincinnati Day exercises at the Exposition. The weather was exceedingly pleasant. Mayor Caldwell, of Cincinnati, accompanied by members of the Chamber of Commerce of that city, arrived at 7:30 o'clock and soon afterward went to the Exposition.

Arriving at the exposition the Ohio visitors and the Presidential party proceeded to the Cincinnati Building, which was presented by Robert Laidlaw, president of the Cincinnati Commissions, and accepted by Mayor Caldwell in behalf of the city.

After these ceremonies a reception was given at the building in honor of President McKinley and the visitors from Ohio. A concert was given a short time afterward in the Negro Building by jubilee singers in honor of the President. When this was ended the President and party and Ohio visitors visited several of the more important buildings.
